

APPLICATION FOR FACILITATORS
Labour Education Program -and-
Young Worker Health and Safety

The B.C. Federation of Labour (BCFL) and the BCFED Health & Safety Centre (the “Centre”) are seeking young workers (18-30 years) to facilitate workshops in high schools about labour education and workplace health and safety.

The Program trains young workers to facilitate an interactive workshop in BC’s high schools on Occupational Health and Safety and Labour Education.

Over the past seven years, the Program’s young workers have spoken to over 60,000 high school students in 22 communities across the province.

The goal of this Program is to educate young workers and students about their rights in the workplace.

We are currently seeking to identify young workers who are interested in facilitating these workshops. Our goal is to have a diverse group of facilitators from across the province.

The BCFL and the Centre will provide the following:

- Training in Basic Occupational Health and Safety;
- A three-day workshop on training in facilitation skills, as well as tools to effectively deliver information to high school students. We are planning for this training to occur in January 2011; and
- Costs to cover travel, lost wages, accommodation and per diem.

The BCFL will send all applications to unions for authorization.

The attached applications can be sent to:
