

Occupational Health & Safety – Legislation Update for Union Reps

- Friday March 18
- Friday April 22
- Tuesday June 28

The BCFED OH&S Centre is offering a unique opportunity for Union Staff Representatives & Leadership to update their Occupational Health & Safety knowledge on existing and new OH&S Legislation (both Provincial & Federal).

This tailored workshop will assist your Union leadership improve their knowledge and skills and discover the tools available to effectively tackle OH&S issues in your workplaces.

In this condensed course participants will review:

- Accident Investigation procedure changes as a result of Bill 9
- The latest WCB Bullying & Harassment requirements and Ergonomics regulation requirements
- Review the new Employer WHIMIS (GHS) Requirements
- OH&S Committee Legal Duties, Functions & Written Recommendation process
- Legal Responsibilities of Employers and Supervisors
- Learn how to effectively apply Worker OH&S Rights, including the Right to Refuse
- Understand the Good, Bad and Ugly of Risk Assessments
- Discuss how Duty to Accommodate (RTW) relates to OH&S
- Legal requirements of a real Employer OH&S Program

Course Cost: $115 (lunch included)

Location: 200-5118 Joyce Street, Vancouver (BCFED Office)

Course Time: 9:00 am – 4:00 pm

To Register: www.healthandsafetybc.ca

604.433.1453 or 1.888.223.5669 ohsadmin@bcfed.ca